

Energy content of reconstructed data relative to original data

